

Free seat

I can't stop watching the moon tonight
It's the brightest it has ever been
Just the thought of you and me, looking up just now,
Is giving me the chills

I'm so damn glad that elder lady sat right next to me
So my hope was gone, you're getting on, asking if that seat's still free.

Cause for you I'll always wait
For you I'll always wait
For you I'll always wait
For you- I wait

I can't stop asking myself tonight
What if, what then, what for?
Just the thought of you and me falling all again,
And I'm afraid of imagining more.

I'm so damn glad that elder lady sat right next to me
So my hope was gone, you're getting on, asking if that seat's still free.

Cause for you I'll always wait
For you I'll always wait
For you I'll always wait
For you- I wait
